SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

One of the commonest questions that is asked a newspaperman is the whimsical "What's news?" We usually mumble something that doesn't mean much of anything and pass on to something else. This week we were reading some philosophy by William Penn, the pioneer Quaker, and ran across a pretty trite statement of what news is: "Believe nothing against another but upon good authority. Nor report what may hurt another unless it be greater harm to others to conceal it."

Word reaches us that we are going to be limited to 100,000 trout for the rearing ponds this season. That is not good news and with the millions of trout being planted in the streams of the state it seems that we should be permitted at least twice this amount if we are willing to care for them and raise them to a size where, when freed into the streams, they are practically ready for the sportsmen. The expense of feeding and tending these trout is not shared by the state and all that we ask is a sufficient number to make it worth the effort of raising them, the cost for 200,000 being not much higher than half that number. We hope that the commission may see a way to provide us with at least 200,000 fry for the approaching season.

The pat on the back this season for careful driving and lack of accidents over the Fourth goes, not to the officers who so carefully guard the road, but to the motoring public. This is agreed to by officers who report that this Fourth saw fewer violators and less dangerous driving than any preceding similar weekend. Only one accident was reported in the Truckee-Tahoe Region, two men being injured. With thousands of cars constantly covering the roads this is a record which we hope can stand as mark for the motoring public in years to come.

The Fourth of July is over, and whether we as a community would have benefitted by a celebration is a matter for argument and we are prepared to take the affirmative, but it would avail us nothing. We are proud of the efforts of our fire department to provide entertainment for our visitors and home folks as well over the holiday period and we believe the boys have earned the thanks of the community. If their efforts failed to chieve the desired results it was certainly no though lack of effort.

REPAIR BEING MADE AT LOCAL CHURCH

Necessary repairs are being made on the property of the Community Church this summer. Last week tie rods were installed to strengthen the church frame, the work being necessitated by heavy winter snows.

The small house next door to and owned by the church is presenting an improved appearance by a coat of fresh paint.

The reconditioning of the property has been planned to continue as funds are available.

CHARGES ARE PENDING

Two Injured Men Taken To Hospital As Third Found Dead

One man was killed and two critically injured shortly before 6 p. m. Friday when a car driven by Thomas Downey, 21, 1214 K Street, Sacramento, plunged 200 feet off Donner Summit Grade on U. S. Highway 40 a few miles west of here.

John Lind, 23, was instantly killed and Downey and Ralph Walton, all of the same address, were badly injured.

Soon after the accident Downey and Walton were rushed to Truckee for first aid before being taken to Nevada County Hospital in Nevada City. It was then that it was learned that there was a third passenger in the car and a search was instituted. The body of Lind was found on a ledge 35 feet further down the hill from the wreckage.

Mrs. Lind, whom the trio was en route to visit, is employed in Reno and came to Truckee to make arrangements for the disposition of the body which was temporarily under the charge of the W. H. Laity Funeral Home here.

Sgt. C. E. McKeen and Officer A. C. Barrick had charge of the investigation of the accident. McKeen said he would file charges against the driver.

FIREMEN HERE FOR MEETING AS FOURTH PASSES QUIETLY

Firemen from Placer, Nevada and El Dorado counties gathered here Sunday for their regular meeting as guests of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department. A free Dutch lunch at the fire station, business meetings and entertainment features at the Odd Fellows hall and a dance in the evening comprised the program.

Many valuable and interesting subjects were discussed and the meeting proved educational to all attending. Chief N. F. Dolley was the official host of the convention.

The visit of the firemen was the principal feature of the celebration of Independence Day here. While hundreds of motorists passed through town bound for celebrations elsewhere, nothing aside from the three night dance and the firemen's meeting was staged here for the entertainment of visitors.

State Senator and Mrs. Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville were among those present at the meeting on Sunday.

NEW EQUIPMENT IS IS INSTALLED HERE BY LOCAL LAUNDRY

Keeping pace with the foremost in modern equipment, which means faster and better service for his patrons, Al Fontana, owner of Fontana's Laundry, has just completed the installation of the new Ajax shirt pressing unit, one of the latest type pieces of equipment on the market. The machines were installed this week and are in operation, replacing servicable but less-up-to-date units. Operated under six tons of pressure, the pressers do better work faster than any other machine of their kind Fontana said.

The addition of the pressers is only one of the many improvements made at the laundry by the progressive owner. Many new electrically operated units have been installed to replace the less modern steam system and at the same time providing more room and less confusion in the big plant which employs more than a score of workers.

The laundry is now one of the best equipped and most modern in Northern California and although not as large as many, gives equal service and excellent work at competitive prices.

A visit to the modern plant will convince anyone that Fontana is not willing to accept any position in his business except right in front.

Two Escape As Car Wrecked At Rail Crossing

Car Damaged When Hit At Local Crossing By Train

What might have been a serious accident at the Southern Pacific crossing was narrowly averted Monday night when the sedan driven by Miss Bruna Esola was struck and badly damaged by a flat car being switched in the yards. Miss Esola and her passenger, Elmer Willard were fortunate in escaping uninjured.

The two were going home from the Firemen's dance when the mishap occurred. Miss Esola said she did not see the cars and that she believed no warning was given of their approach. The impact came suddenly and the auto, with the occupants, was carried more than ten feet before the train stopped. Had it been traveling faster, the accident would, no doubt, have proven disastrous.

The car was taken to the Truckee Garage for repairs.

1300 Acres Of Timber Burned In Local Fire

Five Buildings At Hobart are Razed as Worst Fire Hits Region

UNDER FULL CONTROL

Strong Wind Hampers Fight As Flames Sweep Forest

Fire swept over more than 1300 acres of timber and brush land north and east of Hobart Mills, after wiping out five huge structures in the historic old lumbering town, including the mill, planing mill, box factory and machine shop, was under complete control this week as more than 200 fire fighters returned to their homes and camps.

The fire was believed to have started last Thursday afternoon at the box factory and was probably caused by the hot sunlight shining through a fragment of glass on the platform.

With strong winds, the flames swept through the buildings despite the efforts of the handful of employes at the deserted mill to stop it, and within a few minutes was attacking the tinder-dry brush and trees in the surrounding area.

Scores of CCC boys, forest service employes and others were recruited and under the direction of Ranger H. I. Snider spent the entire weekend fighting the difficult blaze. Four bull dozers were brought in and a fire line was extended completely across the front of the fire and with concerted work, the flames were controlled Monday.

Forest officials said the fire was one of the worst in this area for years.

The sudden shift in the wind on Thursday kept the flames from devouring the homes and scores of other buildings in Hobart Mills, but resulted in the loss of much timber.

PURGE OR PARLEY?

When the men who laid the cornerstone for the world's first Democracy fashioned the framework of American government, the arrogant autocracy of the Old World was still fresh in their emory. "Concentration of Power", in that day, was a brutal actuality that had robbed men of dignity, peace and security—just as it despoiled and entrapped more than half the people of our world today. And out of harsh experience, those early Americans—when they went about the job of building a self-governing nation—reinforced it with a clear-cut divisionof powers, seperating the executive department of government from the legislative, with an independent judiciary as a further guarantee that there should be an unshakble "balance of power".

The United States is still a nation of free men largely as a result of those safeguards. But it is necessary at times for the people and their representatives to serve notice on the politically ambitious that those safeguards must still be maintained and that the usurpation of too much power by one man—regardless of the motives actuating the encroachment—will not be tolerated. In fact, it seems probable that the people of California may find it necessary to put their foot down—with emphasis—during the months just ahead, if the Legislature is to escape emasculation at the hands of the State's chief executive.

Irritated by refusal of the lawmakers to rubber stamp his program for new State taxes, State medicine, State power development and other New Deal experiments, Governor Olson has announced plans to purge the Legislature of those who have opposed his policies. His excuse for the proposed purge is that he has a mandate from the people to carry through his reform policies. But the legislators, elected by the same people, might just as truthfully interperet their election as a "mandate" to pursue the policies of retrenchment which apparently actuated their voting.

Intolerance begets intolerance—and since the alk of a legislative purge, there is also talk of a recall against the Governor. But California want neither. California wants its men in public office to settle their differences in democratic fashion—not by the Soviet system of "liquidation". It's time to parley, rather than to purge; time for the powers that be to sit down at the conference table and give and take a bit—remembering that the job before them is to help depression-weary citizens back to a new foothold and new security. The Legislature just adjourned afforded new proof that a "balance of power" is vitally necessary. It is insurance against rash experiments and dictatorial government. And Californians, if the issue is forced, will vote overwhelmingly to maintain it.

NEWS — GOOD AND BAD

Good news for the state is found in the report that the railroads are due, apparently, for one of their biggest summer passenger seasons in some years. The fair is a major contributory factor. And so are chaotic European conditions which have caused many a traveler to decide to see America first. Forecast is that some lines will do more passenger business than since the depression began. Unfortunately, pleasant as this is, it doesn't mean that our long-beleaguered railroads are in line for even comparative prosperity, from the long-pull viewpoint—freight traffic is their principal source of revenue, and it remains at low levels.

At the State Capitol

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

* * * *

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

* * * *

The longest session of a state legislature in California history and one of the most hectic sessions since 1921 is now an event of the past. The session adjourned sine die last Thursday at 7 p.m. although the records will show adjournment as having taken place on Tuesday, June 24 at 5 p. m.

Just how the people will judge the session just passed remains to be seen. To those who may think it was a "do nothing" legislature, let me suggest that you judge it not by the legislation which it passed but by the legislation which it refused to pass.

The writer's own opinion is that more bad bills were killed in the lower house this session than have been killed in several recent sessions. Not a bill which would have affected this large assembly district in a detrimental way was passed by the Assembly while numerous measures which if passed would have been injurious to the people of the district were defeated. There were radical measures which if passed would have opened up the district to all the outside labor arcketeers in the state to come here and tll our people how they should live and how they should work. These bills would have opened the door wide to the Tom Mooeys and the Harry Bridges to come into our district and stir up strife and trouble n a district which is of pioneer origin and is the most patriotic in the state. But thanks to a group of men and women in the Assembly who are intensely patriotic and place their state ahead of their party, these bad bills were defeated.

There were bills which would have pIced extra burden upon the farmer but these bills too were efdeated by the same group of men and women legislator.

There were bills which would have seriously handicapped our gold mining industry by the elimination of the depletion tax and again these safe and sane legislators defeated the injurious measures. There were other radical measures and some "crackpot" measures too which went down to defeat.

There were such bills as the compulsory health insurance plan which would have added a payroll tax of from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year. There were tax measures which would have seriously handicapped business and as a result would have added direct an indirect taxes upon the individual. There was a proposed severance tax on oil which would have been just another indirect tax for the consumer to pay and which if started, might eventually have included a severance tax on gold and lumber, two highly important industries in the Sixth Assembly District. All of these measures were defeated.

The largest budget in the history of the state was cut down in an endeavor to help the taxpayer, industry, the little business man and the wage earner.

The relief bill which was the cause of so much debate was finally adjusted to the satisfaction of all and as we have stated many times before in this column, ample funds have been allocated and no one will go hungry. And there will be no politics in relief.

So again we say, judge your legislators by the bad bills which they defeated as much as by the legislation they passed.

Your assemblyman was elected on a platform of "sane legislation and economy in government." We were elected by the people of our district and not by the politicians. We refused to be a "rubber stamp" legislator, notwithstanding some of the most terrific political pressure which the politcians endeavored to heap upon us. We decide on how we would cast our vote on the imoprtant measures on the basis of how the measure would affect our district and not our political future. In our own heart we believe that we have kept the faith and have fulfilled our campaign promises. We leave it to the people of our district to be the judge.

In closing this, our final column, we extend our sincere thanks to the editor of The Sierr Sun for his courtesy and cooperation in allowing us this space each week to tell the readers of this newspaper about legislative matters affecting this, tne largest assembly district in the state. We have enjoyed these weekly chats with our constiuents and trust that those who have read this column in their home town paper have at least learned something about hof their legislators work and how the legislature operates.

To uor many friends and supporters throughout the district we extend our sincere thanks for making it possible for us to serve as a member of one of the most strenuous sessions in the history of the state legislature We enjoyed our legislative work immensely and are sincerely grateful to those who made it possible to serve as a legislator.

We will be glad to hea from the people of our district at any time we can be of service. Our home address is Colfax, California.

FISHING AT TAHOE REPORTED BEST IN YEARS BY VETS

TAHOE CITY, July 6— It is conceded by all Tahoe fishing veterans and authorities that the extensive program of fish planting carried on during the past years is now beginning to show results. Excellent fishing conditions exist in the Tahoe region this year both in the lake and in back-country lakes and streams and the Truckee River. Daily limits are not uncommon among Tahoe fishermen. Lake fishermen are using cheifly live bait, salmon eggs or plugs to lure the fish and both still fishing or trolling, with either high or deep line, are successful. Stream fish take mostly worms but fly fishing is becoming increasingly effective. One Tahoe businessman, whose daily catch from Truckee River is a 10 or 12 pound German Brown, uses only live minnow bait. Jim Swanson, son of a veteran lake fisherman, brings in a 4 or 2 pound steelhead from Sunnyside Harbor almost daily. James Ferguson and Jim Wilson got fine limits from Blackwood Creek this week. John Work of Meks Bay has been averaging from 12 to 14 pounds daily from the shore of the bay.

The Mt. Ralston Fish Club last week stocked both Round and Daranelles lakes with 30,000 fish and were making plans to continue planting in back country lakes of the Tahoe region. The State Bureau of Fish Culture is also expanding its program at Tahoe this year.

Record Showing Due To Branch Banking

Bank of America Report Shows Increase in Capital Funds

Reflecting the steady growth of all California, Bank of America, statewide branch banking organization, has again exceeded all previous high marks in capital funds, loans outstanding, and earnings, according to the bank's mid-year statement of condition as of June 30, 1939.

Capital, surplus and undivided profits are shown as standing at $117,370,000, as compared with $112,231,000 reported June 30, 1938, an increase of $5,139,000 for the twelve months, after payment in the same period of dividends amounting to $9,600,000.

The aggregate of loans outstanding is $695,102,000 or $65,977,000 more than on the same date a year ago.

BIG LOAN VOLUME

Deposits total $1,408,306,000, an increase of $50,528,000 over June 30, 1938, while total resources stand at $1,549,824,000, a gain of $51,297,000 for the same period.

Earnings for the first six months of 1939 are $14,777,000. Dividends paid out in the same period at the annual rate of $2.40 a share on 4,000,000 shares outstanding amounted to $4,800,000. There was added to surplus and undivided profits accounts the amount of $3,312,000 after provision of $2,100,000 reserve for depreciation on banking premises, amortization of bond premiums, etc., and $3,967,000 reserves applied to reduce carrying value of assets.

PROFIT SHARING PLAN

Also, during the half year, $597,000 was allotted to the bank's personnel under its profit sharing bonus plan, on the basis of 7½ per cent of salaries up to $500 a month, and 5 per cent of any portion of salaries in excess of $500 a month. The plan, which has been effective since December 1, 1937, and which makes each employee an actual partner in the enterprise, has been accepted as another instance of the leadership of Bank of America in anticipating modern trends, according to President L. M. Giannini.

SAVINGS RATE UNCHANGED

In commenting further, President Giannini said:

"Our gratifying showing, made possible without the necessity of lowering our present rate on savings deposits, is due to popular acceptance of the branch banking method under which we have brought metropolitan banking service to 307 communities through 495 branches, thus providing an unique public service to all of California."

LOCAL BANK HEAD SEES UPTURN IN STATE

Manager Yell Noble of the Truckee branch of Bank of America, pointed this week to the institution's statement of condition as of June 30, 1939, as indicating the steady growth of California in the face of many adverse economic conditions .

The bank, it was shown, attained new high marks in capital funds, loans outstanding and earnings during the first half of this year. Because Bank of America is a statewide institution, represented by 495 branches in 307 communities, it is felt that this showing reflects the conditions of the state as a whole.

TRAFFIC HEAVY AT LAKE ON WEEK END OF FOURTH OF JULY

TAHOE CITY, July 6— Traffic was exceedingly heavy on all lake roads over the holiday week end with the peak on Monday and Tuesday. Traffic Officer F. E. Walker of Tahoe City was assisted over the week end by Sgt. Everett McKee of Sacramento. Seven or eight citations a day for speeding or other traffic violations were given by the officers. Several resorts had their own men out on their roads directing the traffic through the resorts. Another deer, which had been struck by car near Blackwood Creek, was discovered by motorists Monday. The animal had been dead for some time.

Walker stated that there are no "high speed" roads at the lake and that motorists should be extraordinarily careful, especially on busy week ends such as the last.

DEER VENTUERS TO TOWN IN QUEST OF WATER; HILLS DRY

TAHOE CITY, July 6— W. A. Simmonds of the Reclamation Service at the Truckee River Dam outlet of Lake Tahoe, was awakened on Monday morning by a doe that had come to call. The Tahoite was forced ot chase the deer from his yard and over into the forest, where she could get food and drink without the danger of being killed by motorists on the highway. It a common occurence at Tahoe these days to see deer on the golf links or on the highway at night. Due to the dryness of higher altitudes, the deer are forced down to the river or lake for water.

PUBLIC UTILITIES IN STATE SHOW GAIN OVER 10 YEARS

SACRAMENTO, July 6 —(UP)— Revenue of publically-owned utilities in California was 58 p recent higher in 1938 than in 1928, State Controller Harry B. Riley revealed today in a compilation of information submitted by cities and counties.

"The report discloses a steadily increasing use of municipally owned utility services and an expansion in the scope of such enterprises," Riley commented.

A total of 216 city-owned utilities, including electric power plants, docks and wharfs, gas plants and transportation systems grossed $77,388,150 last year, as compared with $49,104,-862 in 1928, according to the controller's figures.

The greatest single source of municipal utility revenue was operation of 23 light and power companies, which produced $35,177,179 last year.

Second in gross revenue were 169 city owned water departments which did a total of $32,234,379 worth of busi-

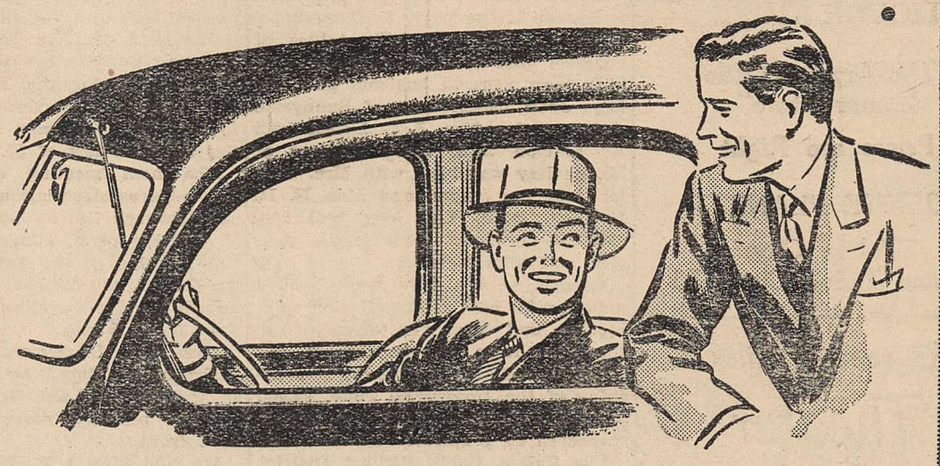
TAHOE CITY, July 6— Work will start this summer on the Sugar Bowl Ski Club near Donner Summit where Hannes Schroll, veteran ski ace, and group of associates will form a company to finance the project.



"I thought I knew all about automobiles!"

A LOT of folks have had their eyes opened wide by a ride in a 1939 Ford V-8. They just didn't realize how much more value and how many improvements we've put in this car the last few years.

Today's advanced Ford is a product of progressive engineering, fine materials and honest construction. It is backed by an experience of building far more cars than anybody else in the world.

One ride in today's Ford — with its smooth 8-cylinder engine, stabilized chassis, hydraulic brakes — will prove it's the modern car in the low-price field.

Who in '40?

Edited by "Tom Jefferson"

"I see for thee a great future, and thou art poring over books of great size wherein are written words of law. An it shall be that thou shall write for thyself a great name in the annals of the world."

Thus wrote the class prophet of the Martinsville, Ind., High School in 1909 on the future of a classmate, Paul V. McNutt.

How truly this prophet spoke is already partly known. No person in th world today commands the respect and personal admiration of the whole of the Orient more than this Martinsville High graduate of 1909. His send-off from Manila on May 11 was unprecdented in that city of gay and colorful affairs; a few days later he became one of the few Americans ever to be received i audience by the Emporer of Japan; on June 30 he returned to Indianapolis as a former Governor for the greatest homecoming ever given one of Indiana's sons; and in the cheering throngs were hundreds of American Legionaires to whom he was National Commander in 1928-29.

Thus far he has gone already. What the future holds for him is uncertain. But the Democrats of Indiana, in their convention of 1938, offered him as a candidate for President in 1940 and they have been busy ever since advocating his cause in all states.

McNutt was born in a modest house in Franklin, Ind., on July 19, 1891. His father was the prosecuting attorney of his county. Today he is six feet-two, white haired, brown skinned and of a strikingly handsome appearance. ....

"He wasn't very strong as a boy," says his mothr. "We had to watch him all the time."

Two years after he was born the family mved to Indianapolis where his father became law librarian at the state house.

He went to grade school for a time in Indianapolis until his father moved to Martinsville, a small town noted for its mineral spings, to hang out his shingle. It was here that Paul grew up. The stamp of "city boy" was on him and classmates remember well how they doused him in the ever-convenient mudhole and how he clambered out, bespattered, anry and ready to fight but held back by parental admonishions againstfighting. He protested so often that his mother finally told him to go ahead and defend himself if necessary.

A few days later Paul came home with torn clothes and a broken umbrella. He tried, without success, to clean up on the whole class. He established a reputation for courage that has stuck to this day. "Bucktown," as his neighborhood was called, erceived him as "one of the boys" in their typically American boy adventures.

"We played games and were up to pranks just like kids anywhere," says "Bob" Phelps, Martinsville druggist and a McNutt classmate. He is especially fond of telling the story of the drinking fountain which his class gave the school.

"Just a thin stream of water would come through it," he relates. " You hd to suck it to get a drink. The school trustees must have been anxious to save on a water bill. Paul and the rest of us got into the building at night and turned on the water valve in the basement. Water shot geyser-like on the walls until the high school floor was sole deep in water. Mops and brooms had to be used to straighten out the mess.

"No one ever found out who did it until, at a class reunion, just before Paul was elecede governor, we told our Latin teacher. She was retired several years ago. That was the first time she had even known that Paul was mixed up in the water episode. She was as embarassed as everything. She always hought Paul was the smartest, finest boy in class, and that he never would have taken part in such a stunt."

He liked girls but he had no real "steady" i his school career, according to Mrs. Mabel Messmer, of Pul's class of '09. "We went on hay rides —you know the kind where you make an old hay wagon as comfortable as possible with hay and straw and go out after dark behind a team of work horses on dirt roads—but Paul was never any hand to go with the same girl every time. You had to go some to beat him in his classes, too," she added.

One of his teachers was Miss Dorothy Cunningham who later became Republican executive national committewoman and a speaker in several campaigns, one of them against her former pupil when he was a cadidate for governor. She usually tempered her remarks with: "It's not the ma I'm after, it's the party."

McNutt and his classmates issued a yearbok of which he was editor. He helped organize a dramatic club and played leading parts in its productions.

To do all these things required concentration and study. "Often we would pass his home and whistle for him to come out but he'd stay in to keep on studying instead of coming out to play catch or pitch horseshoes," says Druggist Phelps.

Thus passed the boyhood of the outstanding Democratic candidate to succeed President Roosevelt. We say he is the leading candidate in spite of the belittling attitude of his opponents. It will take more than a good belittler to beat Paul Voohries McNutt in 1940.

POLITICAL PARADE

* * * *

By CLEM WHITAKER

* * * *

Before the year is out, there'll be a wicked, partisan scrap for vacant seats in the State Senate which promises to stand some of California's leading politicos right on their ears.

And the man on the street (if he's still safe on the street!) may get just a slight idea of waht's in store for him during 1940.

Strangely enough, the fights will be fought out—so far as actual voting is cocerned — in only two or three districts. But control of the Senate may hang on the outcome. And control of the Senate might mea control of California!

Then, too, there's the matter of 1940—and the possible psychological effect on next year's presidential battle of any election this year which showed a definite trend toward either of the major parties.

At the moment there are two Senate vacancies. But before the special elections are called, there may be three.

Here are the two spots now open together with current gossip as to who may seek to secure them:

NINTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT (ElDorado, Amador and Alpine counties) — Vacated by Senator A. L. ("Andy") Pierovich, Democrat, of Jackson, who was appointed by Governor Olson as Superior Judge of Amador County. One of the most probable candidates: H. E. Dillinger, Democrat, Placerville attroney and former assemblyman. No Olson candidate yet suggested.

THIRTY - FIFTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT (Orange County)— Vacated by Senator Harry C. Westover, Democrat, of Santa Ana, who was appointed to the Orange County Superior Court bench by Governor Olson.

For this spot, Assemblyman Thomas H. Kuchel, Republican, of Anaheim, has been prominently mentioned. Former Senator Nelson T. Edwards, Republican of Orange, also is being considered, with the understanding that hemight be induced to run simply for the unexpired term. No Olson Democrat has yet been selected.

A third possible vacancy, which would stir up a battle bautiful, is in the FIFTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT (Shasta and Trinity Counties). This district is now represented by Senator Jesse Carter of Redding, an Olson Democrat of the first water, but Mr. Carter, according to report, may soon win a gubernatorial appointment. William B. ("Bill") Menzel, Republican, of Redding, who was nosed out by Carter in the sepcial write-in election early this year, is considered a certain candidate for this spot. No Olson candidate has yet been selected.

And if you don't think these elections will assume major importance, consider he fact that the Senate alignment before the vacancies occurred, was:22 Republicans, 18 Democrats. Three seats in that picture might mean a great deal.

(BY OPERATIVE WB)

If President Roosevelt takes the bull by the horns (or perhaps we should say 'the donkey by the ears') and appeals to the Democratic National Convention to nominate him for a third term, you can put this down and bet on it: He will have the enthusiastic support of Gov. Culbert Olson in his precedent-shattering endevor. And that Richard C. ("Dick") Olson, the Governor's energetic son, will probably go to the big convention as member of the California delegation—to help his dad deliver.

* * * *

As dead as a firecracker after the Fourth is the bookie bill passed by the Legislature. The Governor wants none of it. But there may be a wide-open gambling act on next year's ballot, with the dog tracks and certain big shot bookmakers initiating it. The profis from running the doggies and making books on the hosses are bigger than a Hollywood payroll. And money is the root of all evil.

Lieutenant Governor Ellis E. Patterson, leftist orator of parts (he's a shrill soprano!), seems to have stubbed his toe on the welcome mat when he stepped into Merced County recently to address the Stevinson Post Legion picnic. Mr. Patterson, with typical southpaw irascibility, devoted his address to excoriating all and sundry and Senator "Pete" Myhand of Merced in particular. And the press notices have been very bad indeed, for Pete's friends are legion. The Merced Express summed it all up with the caption, "Patterson Should Stay At Home". And judging from the reception, maybe he should.
